HONGEONG, MARCH 28ED, 1907.

WITH summer coming, we presume that questions of summer clothing will not be matters of indifference to most readers just now, and that they will consider a couple ; of articles in the Journal of Tropical Medicine and Hygiens as sufficiently topical. In the last number to hand, dated February 15th, Dr. LOUIS W. SAMBON, lecturer to the London School of Tropical Medicine, writes on "Tropical Clothing," and Dr. CANTLIE, formerly of Hongkong, comments, editorially on the article. The white man from a temperate zone begins his life in the tropics under certain disadvantages which Nature at once starts to remove; but as Nature is a slow workman, and takes time over the physiological changes which adapt us to our new environment, the medical experts come to the rescue with some ad interim suggestions. In the case of Dr. SAMBON'S hints, these have considerable academic interest if they have not practical usefulness. Like most other natural phenomena, the coloured skin has its reason. light from the sun is said by Dr. Sambon | 397. to be "noxious." He does not show this but we will assume that he knows it to be so. We know that it is or has a force capable of inducing chemical changes, and it may be that its effect upon health is as important as its effect upon a photographic rays that tan our white volunteers and sportsmen. Brunette experimenters with X-rays do not suffer as blondes do. Therefore we have to consider Dr. Sambon's Admiralty." advice with these two presumptions, that sunlight (actinic) is injurious, and that pigmentation is a protection against it Helped by Mr. Bany, lecturer on spectroscopy, Dr. Samson made a number of experiments and investigations into the effect of pigment in or on the skin, which were sufficiently technical to warrant being taken for granted here. The result of this consideration of the relations of light and colour is that "the white man in the tropics should wear black, red, or orange clothing, because these are the colours which exclude the short rays: When reminded of the general native custom of wearing white in tropical countries, Dr. Sambon replies that it is doubtless wise to follow the dictates of long experience, " but those who borrowed this custom overlooked the all-important fact that the native is already fully protected by a natural armour of pigment which is impervious to the harmful actinic rays." A thorough staining of the whole body with walnut juice would seem to be the correct thing for those who desire to be in the tropical fashion; then they could wear mything. White is col, our Doctor admits, because it reflects the long heat rays. That is why generations of white men have worn white, because they felt cool in it (all they wanted) and knowing nothing of the actinic attempts upon their health, did not worry about it. We could have wished that Dr. Sambon had taken us more into his confidence about the noxiousness of actinic light, for, inexpert as we are, there still seems to us to be need to conviace us of this important point. At present he leaves us at this stage; that actinic rays cause pigmentation, and that pigmentation is a protection against actinic rays. We can hardly advocate red for orange clothes on the strength of that. White outer garments and black, red, or vellow underclothing will do, but to lessen the number and weight of our clothes, Dr. Samson has invented a fabric so woven that while it presents a white reflector for the long heat rays it is opaque to short ray s. Dr. CANTLIE, the "charming faddist," as one of his admirers has called him, heartily approves of his colleague's thesis and invention, and declares that he has dealt with the matter in a "truly scientific spirit." It was hardly scientific to neglect to show that solar actinism is maleficent, a point which (while it may be a truism to scientists) needs proving for men who bask and rejoice in the sunshine. Dr. CANTLIE speaks of the "damaging effect" and "evil effects" of actinic rays, but he also omits to instance any specific examples. We fancy there are eminent scientists who doubt that the sun is entirely responsible for all the dark skins in the world, and it is certainly odd that the Inoits of the Arctic circle should be as dark as or darker than the Indians of the tropic belt. But apart from that, Dr. Sambon shows that is Nature hurts, Nature also remedies, and he has not satisfied us of the necessity for meddling. If men feel cool in white, all

Lord Charles Beresford, in an interview with the Mexico City correspondent of the New York Herald said the report that he had refused the command of the Channel Fleet was a mistake. "Upon my return to London from the Mediterranean," his lordship said, "I declined to accept the command of the Channel plate or film. It is the short or actinic Fleet without certain medifications. The Admiralty approved these modifications, and I accepted the command before leaving for America. Lord Charles declined to state what were the modifications he had urged on the Eighteen entries have been received so far for the motor-our contest from Paking to Paris Among the competitors is Baron Daquesne, who has covered several thousand miles in the Bahara in different automobiles. The start will be made, says the Paris correspondent of the Tribune, from Peking, not from Paris, as was originally proposed. The competing cars will be sent to Peking on April 14, and their drivers will follow at the end of May. One of the last to enter for the competition is Prince Scipion Borglèse, who will drive an Itala.

Wilder's predecessor at Hongkong, has been cruelly betrayed by some callous reporter at Fon arged as necessary on the Asiatic station, and du Lac, Wisconsin. The senerable gentleman's it may be only an ordinary repair plant and garrulity is of less moment than his smart supply depot for the convenience of national sayings used to be, and we will not quote all that ships in Far Eastern waters. It is still the he is said to have said about the Japanese. It policy of the Navy Department to have the big is in the tone of his famous remark about repairs done at the home navy yards, and this Cubane, that "good Cubins are as common as will probably be continued in the interest of whistles from pig tails." but he does not think | home labour. The appropriation intended for war with Japan is likely. It may be inevitable, Cavite is less than $15,000 and will burely but it is not imminent, he says; and all the recent war talk he describes as " pop pycock."

The Seoul correspondent of the Kilnische Zeitung says that the German firm of Meyer and Co., of Chemulpo, has obtained an important gold-mining concession northwards of and that a skilled German mining engineer Hongkong Hotel, this (Saturday) evening :-pondent says that several other Powers had applied for the concession in question, but that the influence possessed by the German Consul Three Dances from Nell Gwynne : at Seoul, Dr. Ney, is so great that it is mainly owing to him that the concession was given to a German firm.

A recent extremely interesting addition to the interesting one from the point of view of the Zoological Gardens in London is a specimen of the long-tailed goral from Kore a. This was presented and sent home as a Korean wild goat, and it turned out to be a fine specimen of an animal, been designed to attain a speed greatly in excess -first described by Milne-Edwar de, the famous French naturalist, more than fifty years ago -- | to be in a position that day to say that they were which it is simost certain has never been alive | the first firm in the country to lauch one of the in Europe before. It belongs to a group of vessels of this particular type. Certain novelties very interesting creatures, intermediate between | were being introduced into this vessel and others goats and antelopes, which are sometimes called of the class in the machinery arrangements, oil goat-antelopes. The "Zoo" is fortunate in fuel being used instead of coal; and the results being able to show just now three out of the four or six species known to exist. It has a fine Himalayan goral, presented about a year ago, was believed, enable a speed to be attained which and also a specimen of the larger and more had never been attained before on the sea. powerful serow from Burmah. Commander Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, was the guest of honour at a dinner given by the Lotes Club, New York. "The discovery not only of the north, but of the south pole as well, is not only our privilege, but our duty and destiny, as much as the building of the Panama canal and the control of the Pavific. " The canal and the control of the Pacific means wealth, commercial primacy and unassailable power, but the discovery of the poles spell just as strongly as the others, national prestige, with the moral strength that comes from the feeling that not even century. defying problems can withstand us."

There is little prospect of any work of importance being accomplished in the next fiscal year at the navy stations at Olongapo and Cavite. The appropriation contemplated for the former station amounts to $115,000, which will provide for little work, and only that which is necessary, no matter what class of station is established at Olongapo. There is still much doubt as to the ultimate character of General Edward S. Bragg, Mr. Consul the Olongapo plant. It may be the may war hase and dock yard which its advocates have suffice to keep that yard in an efficient condition. It will simply maintain the plant without in any way extending it.

THE POLICE HOAXED.

A WOMAN'S WILE. The West Point police, after following up false class for two days, have succeeded in unravelling a mystery which was not a mystery. An old Chinese watchman, whose duty is to watch the premises of three washermen situate on the billside between Pokfulam and Jubilee Roads, lives hard by with his brother's widow. It appears that on the night of the 19th instant he went to sleep on duty, and while he slept thieves came and stole clothing to the value of S6. The loss was discovered next morning, and get out of paying the 36 the old couple concocted the following scheme.-At about midday on Monday the woman went to the West Point Police Station and told Inspector Collett how six armed men had broken into their humble abode, bound and gagged the pair of them and carried off their belongings besides the goods the watchman was in charge of. For nine hours they lay bound and gagged until a friend who happened to call relieved them from bondage: Of course the police were most expeditions in making inquiries, collecting evidence, etc., but all to no avail. It was impossible to get on the track of the alleged robbers, and eventually the watchman was taxed as to tho genuineness of the woman's story. He broke down under cross-examination and admitted it was a hear, stating that the woman conceived. the plan in order that he might not have to pay $6, the value of the articles stolen.

DISPUTED POSSESSION OF TIN. An action, in which practically all the parties resided in Penang, was commenced The plaintiffs were the Kee Gun firm, Bun Tin Kee and Thong Seng, and the defendants were the Yan On Marine and Fire Insurance and Godown Company and the King Kee firm. The Hon. Mr. H. E. Pollock, K.C. (instructed by Mr. George Hastings), appeared for the plaintiffs, while Mr. M. W. Slade, (instructed by Mr. H. Hursthouse, of Messre. Dennys and Bowley's Office, for the King Kee, and Mr. A. C. Holberrow, (of Messrs Descon Looker and Deacon) represented the defendants. From the statement of claim it appeared that the Ke Guan firm, merchants carrying on business in Penang, were owners of the s.s. Waihers and that the Bun Tin Kee and Thong Seng were also merchants in the same place. In Docember 1904 the two latter shipped 290 and 300 slabs of tin respectively on the Waihera for Hongkong under a contract with the Hang Sang Cheong firm, reserving to themselves the right of disposing of the tin should the Hongkong firm fail to meet the bills of exchange for 124,28-15 and $25,000 which had been drawn against it. The bills of exchange were made payable to the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank in consideration of advances made upon them against the scourity of the tin. The Hang Seng Cheong firm, it was alleged, fraudulently and with intent to avoid payment of the bills of exchaige as well as payment of the price of the tin, obtained delivery of a certain number of slabs from the Kam Tak Tai firm, plaintiffs" agents in Hongkong, without producing the bills of lading and without the knowledge of the plaintiffs. The Kam Tak Tai firm had no authority to take delivery. Shortly afterwards abstained from the discussion. Untimately the partners of the Hang Seng Cheong Constitutional-Democratic motion, de absconded from the Colony and bankruptcy being appointed trustee of the estate. Plaintiffs had to repay the Bank's advance, but the Hang Seng Cheong had not paid the the tin and plaintiffs claimed a declaration that they were entitled to a first charge upon the slabs of tin which had been stored in the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company's premises to the order of Mr. G. H. Wakeman, to the extent of $19,288.15 and costs.

ALLIGED INTIMIDATION : EXTRADITION CASE. On the morning of the 11th injust Mr. Sien Ting, dentist, was paid a visit at his private house, 5 Wongneicheong Rad, by a man named Lau Yuk-ting. This caller told the dentist he was Lau Kwa-ng, a name much feared in the Kwangtung Province by reason of the fact that that worthy was one of the most notorious of Chinese brigants. Sian Ting replied that such could not be the case as Lau Kwa-ng had been beheaded in Canton. The visitor replied that that was only a rumour. He was that celebrated chief, and the Chinese authorities had placed a price of $10,000 on his head. He then demanded money-to-pay-the-Bi shop J. C. Ryle. His first curacy was at passages of fifty of his gang, who were "wanted" in Chins, to Singapore and Siam. The dentist refused to accede to his request, and was about to walk away when Lau Yuk-ting stopped him and told him he had better pay, at the same time pretending to draw a revolver. Bien Ting blew a police whistle and closed with the in truder. A foki came to his assistance, the man was overpowered, and it was then found he henorary cames of Liverpool in 1904, and was unarmed. When thus bested the daring chief went down on his knees and bogged for miercy, but was handed over to the plice who of St. Cyprian's, Edgehill, preferred against him a charge of demanding money with menaces. When they harned of the arrest several Chinese gentlemen reported to the police that they also had been block mailed, and on Sunday two of them identified th defendant from among six others at the Central Station as the man who had visited them. The man was then charged with these two offences. but the three charges were withdrawn yesterday as an extradition warrant has been taken out, the defendant being required in Chin for the commission of armed robbery. IN SEARCH OF A BROTHER. Lau Lu, keeper of the Kwong Lo boarding house in Connaught Road Contral, was charged with failing to keep a correct register of the number of emigrants who stayed at his house.

After a few days of fruitless search in the Chinese city, he suggested that the young man must have gone to that at the Hague with Professor de Martens, who has Eldorado, Hongkong, and that the brothers now completed a tour of the courts in connection should follow him here. They did, and were directed by their friend to the Kwong Lo bearding house. A day spent here and then their guide was anxious that they should go on to Singapore and continue the march. He did not mention this fact, however, but endeavoured to get them on board. Being now assiled by doubtes to the tout's intestions they retused to go off to the ship, and when he attempted to use force a quarrel ensued. It the course of this a Chinese delective was observed approaching. As soon as the tout saw him he ran away, and although the detective parsued him, the man escaped. THE BERLIN WRECK. The shocking wreck of the Great Eastern steamer Berlin at the Hook of Holland during the terrible gale of Wednesday night has startled the country beyond description. The new China Society is evidently going to be popular and useful and make its mark. It had its second meeting in he Caxton Hall, Westminster, last night and a most successful gathering it was. The half was quite filled, many old China hand, and other members of the Society and their friends being present including several officials of the Chinese Legation in native dress, Dr. Bushell, formerly of Peking, was in the chair, and Mr. Laurence Binyon, the British Museum authority on art, gave a most instructive lecture on Chinese Arts, and with the aid of a lantern specimens of Chinese art, covering two thousand years, were exhibited. The lecture was confined chiefly to Chinese painting. Chinese Painting is a neglected study; it is quite different in aim from that of Europe; its scope more limited, but purer and more decorative, he said. He traced its affinity with pre-Renaissance pointing in Italy and gave a sketch of its history from the 1st century to the 19th. Chinese painters are greatest in landscape and form the noblest "landscape school" the world has seen. The lecturer then touched its modern character. He suggested that the "feeling for nature" was earlier by conturies in China than in Europe but few good specimens are available. "SOLARO" THE BEST TROPICAL CLOTHING.

A. B. Kharas (Scoler)

With reference to a new advertisemen appearing to-day, the following extract from Dr. Sambon's article in the Journal of Trop car Medicine is of interest :- " I endeavoured to produce a fabric composed of white and black. white and red, or white and orange threads woven in such a way as to present a warp or upper surface of white colour and weft or under surface of black, red, or orange.

A cloth of this description, though admirably adapted to the requirements of a tropical climate, would be unsuitable to soldiers and sportsmen, who require neutral colours which may easily harmonise with their probable surstrata, depth and so on. Members have evinced | roundings and thus render them incomspicaous. At the time when infantry opened fire at no greater distance than one hundred and fifty to two hundred yards, colour was of little couse quence, but to-day, with long-range arms and smokeless powder, it is of primary importance I to avoid such colours as white, blue, or scarlet which can be distinguished at long distances The white tunic was disastrous to the Austrian army is its war with Italy.

Adopting the same method as for the white warp cloth, but using threads of yellow and for the warp, and red threads for the west, and bringing the weft threads to the back in the proportion of three to one, so as to give the front the proportion of three yellow, three blue and one red, a perfect khaki effect was obtained on the outer surface of the cloth, with a red colour-screen on the inner surface.

Many other colours were subsequently tried in order to obtain shades that might harmonise with tropical environments far more closely than the ordinary kha i.

The manufacture of these fabrics offered endless difficulties, such as the choice of suitthat might withstand tropical conditions; weight, porosity, and smoothness required; the strength and durability indispensable to rough usage; and the means of rendering them waterrepellent so as to protect the wearer against the sudden torrential raius of the wet season, without interfering with the necessary ventilation. Through the appreciative interest and energy of Mr. John Ellis, who has given considerable carry out my suggestion, and by means of special machinery put down for the purpose, has succeeded in producing a great variety of qualities and colours which, under the name of Solaro" fabrics, have attnined my object in a most admirable way. These fabrics have been examined by Mr. Baly and have proved as impervious of the actinic rays as the skin of the natives of tropical countries."

ANOTHER BIG FLOATING DOCK. The Navy Department in Washington plans to build a bigger dry dock than the Dewey dock towed out lest year to the Philippines. It is to have a similar width and height to' the dock at Clangapo but will be from fifty to hundred feet longer. Its location is not yet announced. SAN PRANCISCO NEW DRY DOCK.

The San Francisco Dock Company is to carry out with all speed a dry dock at liunter's Point, San Francisco Bay, which will beat everything in the world for size. It will be 170 feet langer than the famous dock at Glasgow, and 225 feet longer than the Alexandra Dock at Belfast. It will cost a quarter of a million sterling.

THE SULZ CAN. L. Mr. Henniker Heaton, having asked what is the capital of the Suez Canal Company and the number of shares; how many of the se shares and how much of this money is invested by the British Government; whether the vidend on the canal shares amounts to 28 per cent., and that as much as £2,000 was paid by one steamer for the privilege of passing through the capal; whether the correspondence between the Prime Minister of Australia and the British Government on the appeal of Australia to reduce the Suez Canal transit dues. with a view to encourage traffic between the home country and the Colonies and India, will be laid upon the table of the House without delay, Mr. Runciman replied on behalf of Sir E. Grey :- The capital original y consisted of 400,000 shares of 500f. each. Of these, 15,428 shares had been redeemed up to January lat, 1906; 176,602 shares were purchased by his Majesty's Government at a cost of £3,976,582. I understand that the facts are correctly stated in the third part of the question. The correspondence between the Colonial Office and the Governor-General of Apstralia has already been published in that continent. Papers will be presented to Parliament here.

The banquet given at Bremerhaven on Feb. 21 on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II, by the Norddeutscher-Lloyd, in honour of the company's jubilee, was attended by 600 gueste. among whom was Prince Frederick William of Prussia. In acknowledging a request by the president. Herr Plate, to allow a new steamer of 18,000 tens to be named after him. the the Prince spoke of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd as having become one of the leading shipping companies of the world. He considered that the progress made by the shipbuilding industry in crmany was greatly due to the action of the company. He further thought that they had set an example to shipping companies generally by prying particular attention to the training of their captains and officers, who in turn showed not only good seaman-hip but manliness and conrage in upholding the honour of Germany throughout the world. Among the other speakers was Herr Achelia. vice-president of the company, who said that the e-a and international commerce were free to all. There could be no monopoly. The International Mercantile Marine had thought to obtain such a monopoly, but had not

N. D. L. BANQUET.

The Daily Telegraph of Feb. 20th says:-One of the most remarkable shipping organisations in the world to-day calebrates its jubilee: On Feb. 20, 1857, the Norddeutscher Lloyd Company was formed at Bremen, and its liftieth birthday occurs, curiously enough, on the eve of a fresh and most interesting development in the keen rivalry for the Atlantic traffic. This great German corporation was the first to order its New York liners, outward and homeward bound, to call at Cherbourg. Another innovation was marked by the institution of a service from New York to the Mediterranean. These decisions enabled the Norddeutscher Lloyd vessels. apart from the advantage they gained by making Bromen their headquarters, to "tap" very effectively Northern and Central Europe, and at the same time Americans about to visit Paris or the South of France were given the choice of a convenient Continental port; while by putting into Bouthempton, the German boats served also the British Isles. This effort to "centralise" Transatlantic traffic in Europe was an entirely new ides, and its success is attested by the would in fifty years develop into the second announcement that the White StarLine is about largest shipping corporation in the world to make Southampton, instead of Liverpool, the under the control of the present enlightened headquarters of their express steamers. It is ocean statesman, Dr. Weigand. In a sense probable that the Cunard Company will adopt the Bame course. In any case, the travelling velopment, for until twenty years on the vessels public stand to gain by this increased competi-on in ocean communication—this centralisation of express services - between the Old World and of express services - between the Old World and Lleyd has become German, with German the New since travellers from all parts of Europe and from the American Continent will have a greater freedom of choice in making their

The story of the Norddeutscher Lloyd Company is a romance in patriotism. English steamship lines have usually been built up mainly by one man's enterprise and power Inman, Canard, Ismay, Bibby, are largest firms of manufacturers undertook to spontaneously recalled as the fathers of great shipping concerns. The Norddentscher Lloyd, in its early days, owed much to one man-Consul Meier, who has had notable successors in the management-but originally its formation seems to have been due to local patriotism in the Hanscatic town of Bremen. The most influential business firms with expanding trade combined to open up better communication between themselves and the world large, and throughout the career of the company it has owed little to Government patronage—there was so German Empire in its early days -- and much to the dogged determination and "pushfulness" of the Bromen people, who have financed it from the tirst, and have shared its sorrows and joys--and its dividends-which have been liberal. This corporation was Bremen's idea of "Welt-politik" fifty years ago. The new line was inaugurated modestly, for its original fleet and capital would to-day represent only one modern liner. The promoters bad no official encouragement; they knew that they had to sink or swim without aid from any Government. At the inaugural banquet Consul Meier pointed out that in their emblem, an anchor and the Bremen key crossing each other, aurrounded by a wreath of oak leaves, was hidden their motto; "The anchor represants our hope that the key will open to us the highways of commerce, which we shall greated and maintain with German vigour, perseverance, and steadfastness." Cousal Meier and the first director, Herr Crusemann, lived to see their dreams realised, but they certainly never anticipated that their small venture thoroughness-German ships, German officers and men, German clerks, and German

The history of the company is one of rare business statesmanship. The director of its affairs have alwa a combined a high pride in the concern under their charge with a singularly wise spirit of enterprise, and the company has been in the forefront in adapting itself to new conditions, in studying the comfort and safety of its passengers, in caring for its officers and men, and in applying all the latest revealed secrets of mechanical science. In these respects its record is probably unique. Its activities are now world wile, but it is a self-contained organisation, with Bremen at the heart of the concorn. It has its own docks, workshops, coaling

MARK HAMBOURG TALKS

About the Music Nerve—

A great musician seems to be one big nerve-The Music Nervewhich thrills and vibrates to every mood and emotion, and thus the very ardour of genius exhausts the nerve force far more rapidly than is usual with less gifted people. Interviewed recently about this important fact, Mr. Mark Hambourg, the wonderful master of the piano, admits that the nervous strain of continuous recitals taxes his energy so heavily that he finds it necessary to replenish his nervous system with a course of Phosferine. So highly does Mr. Hambourg esteem the recuperative powers of the famous nerve Tonic, that he willingly allows us to reproduce his opinion of the invigorating qualities of I hosferine.

And how to safeguard it.

MARK HAMBOURG writes :- "I consider I have derived considerable benefit from the use of Phosferine and find it to be an excellent pick-me-up after my recitals."-November 3, 1906.

The Royal Example.

Phosferine is used by the Royal Families of Europe which, in plain language, means that every user of Phosferine knows and feels that this famous Tonic is commended by the greatest living Physicians.

No other Medicine has received such absolute proof of its extraordinary properties in restoring Shattered Constitutions, and in giving back to the prematurely aged New Life and Energy. It is the most powerful Nerve and Recuperative Tonic known. It removes Mental Depression, want of Tone and Nerve Power. It has remarkable Health-giving, Strengthgiving, Energising, and Rejuvenating properties.

fleet, commissariat, and training service as will as its own admirably administered pension, insurrance, and behavolent funds, and its own experimental station, where paraffla models of proposed ships are tested, so as to arrive at the best form of hull, and supply data for calculating the necessary horse-power, thorough, and in none, perhaps, more so than in respect to the training service. In order that it may obtain exactly the kind of officers desired for the steamers which plough their way over every ses, end that the training may be conducted on approved lines, the company maintains a fleet of school-ships of four-masted barques, and thus they obtain a combination of high discipline-gained under the conscription law -with the resourcefulness of the sailor,

It is impossible to relate at length the early struggles of the "N.D.L.," for it has had ups and downs like most commercial concerns; would also be tedious to trace the steps by which | 20th inst. - a shade weaker. Shanghai Docks the original twin services of small vesselsacross the North Sea to England, and over the Atlantic to New York-have year by year been been increased in number. From small beginning, with Brilish-huilt ships, the company has swept on victoriously, continually embarking on new ventures, and almost invariably the forward policy seems to have paid. At present this supported only by the patriotism of the Bremen people, maintains the following services: --- the East Including cratt of all sorts, built and building the fleet comprises 333 vessels. Of these 170 are steamers, 121 being ocean-going vessel. Its career as a serious competitor American traffic may be said to date from about twenty years ago, when the directors decided to make a bold bid for the premier position on the North Atlantic, and ordered an entire new fleet of nine express steamers from the Fairfield Co., of Glasgow. It was a bold move and it succeeded. About this time, however, a change occurred of immense moment, Lloyd. who immediately increased their capital by 20,000,000 marks—half in stock and half in debentures-to provide, facilities for the work. One of the conditions of the contract was that all vessels for the new services must be built in month later the Australian service was inaugu- Hopkins; Hymns, 24, 12 r, 206 and 220. Since then the Yangtza service has been opened, whilst in 1902 a line between New Guinea and Sydney was established. Thus has this German company asserted its flag proudly where years ago it was hardly seen.

the past ten years. In 1897 the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, a vessel of 14,349 tons, with twin screw engines of 28 0 00 h.p., made her first trip. The sea speed of this vessel is not far short of twenty-three knots. She was followed by the Kroupring Wilhelm, still larger and faster, and then by the Kaiser Wilhelm II., of over 20,000 tons, with engines of 40,000 h.p., giving her a speed of over twenty-three knots. The Kronprinzessin Cecilie, sister to the last-named ship, is now almost ready for service, and will make her first trip in August next. All these vessels have bilge keels to diminish the rolling, machinery balanced on the Schlick. system to avoid vibration, Stone Lloyd bulk. head doors which render the ships practically unsinkable, and the new submarine bell apparatus which safeguards the approaches to land during fog. With these new additions to the fleet "records" have been of frequent occurrence, and among them may be mentioned the following-Sandy Hook to Plymouth: By the Kaiser Wilhelm II., in 5 days 8h, 16min; by

Now the struggle in the Atlantic is about to be waged with increasing keenness. The White Star "express liners" are being 'centralised"—they will call in future at Cherbourg on their voyages to and from New York and Southsmpton, and the Cunard Company are completing their two new " flyers." with a speed exceeding twenty-five knots. It will be interesting to see what the outcome of this rivalry will be, but, as we have said, one thing at least seems certain-the travelling public stand to gain.

JAPAN'S OPPORTUNITY IN KOREA BY HOWARD HENSMAN IN THE " PALL MALL GAZETTE,

Korea to day is as much a portion of the Japanese Empire as is Tokyo itself. True there has been no formal annexation of the country on the part of the Japanese, but Japanese influence, always predominant in Seoul, is to-day all-powerful. The importance of unrestricted freedom of action in Korca was realised by Japan long before the war with Russia broke out. At least twelve years ago the pigeon-holes of the Secretariat of the General Staff of the Japanese Army contained fully-detailed plans for the instant occupation of Korea, and for the construction of that great military railway from Fusan to Antung that is now an accomplished fact, while the authorities in Tokyo always contemplated the possibility Optional Goods will be carried on unless in- of being called upon to take over the

It is understood that the Japanese administrative staff at present in Korea is now preparing a measure for the encouragement of agriculture throughout the country, and for the sweeping away of the many abuses that now retard and hamper progress in this direction. This will probably be laid before the Emperor of Korea during the present year, though how long it will be before he can be brought to accept the new conditions it is imposible to predict. The Japanese, however, understand for better than any Western people the working of the untutored Oriental mind, and they may be relied upon to carry through any work to which they set their hands, whether it be in Korea or elsewhere.

AN APPEAL.

THE SISTERS who direct St. Antonio's CONVENT at Macao will be very thankful to Shop-keepers, Linen-drapers, Clothiers and Tailors in Hongkong, Macao, and elsewhere who will send to them remnants of material, books of patterns no longer used, and any pieces of cloth, no matter how small, of which they cannot make uso. Those who send will thus, at no cost to themselves, afford the numerous hands in the convent, especially the little ones, opportunity for useful occupation; for pieces of cloth, even of a square inch, can be stitched together and very pretty pieces of work made out of cloth. that would otherwise be thrown away. These articles are bought by charitable persons and the Sisters are thus helped to keep up their very large establishment, which is maintained by the alms of friends and in a great measure by the earnings of the girls themselves, who lead by no means an idle life within the convent
